27. A proposal has been discussed to give an A through F letter grade to schools based on the performance of their students, teachers, and administrators. Some argue that this type of grading would be useful so parents can hold schools accountable and make informed choices for their children. Others argue that this type of grading would not provide meaningful information about school quality and would create needless bureaucratic paperwork. Which comes closer to your view?

30b. The cost of incarcerating prison inmates in Wisconsin has grown significantly. The state corrections budget has increased 70% between 1999 and 2009 and now costs the state $1.2 billion annually. What is your opinion of the following statement? Wisconsin needs to reduce the cost of prisons by incarcerating fewer prisoners and, instead, make use of locally managed, community based services to deal with some people who have been convicted of crimes.
